own improvements, and has appointed a committee to report on estimates and plans for the remodeling of its building at Sycamore and Tabb Streets. It is understood that the committee will probably favor extensive improvements, including the making fireproof that part of the building which contains the library and museum. James Y. Branch, Robert Brunet and O. W. Mattox are the members of the improvement committee.

The special meeting of the Board of Aldermen last night to consider the license tax ordinance recently passed by the Council, decided, on the city attorney's advice, that the law required a three-day interval between meetings of the two municipal bodies to yete on the ordinance at a meeting next Thursday night, when the ordinance will be adopted as it came from the Council. The ordinance was adopted last night by the Board of Aldermen in committee of the whole.

Grandchildren in An Hour.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

OSBORN'S GAP, VA., April 17.—A rather singular coincidence has just taken place here. Roland Flending, a son-in-law of the Rev. J. C. Swindal, lives near his father-in-law's, and within the night word was received at the parson's that his little grandson (Fleming's son) was dead. Then an hour or two later word was received thit a child of Peier Cointiss, also another grandson of the parson's, was dead. There was a double burial—one coffin—in the Swindal Cemetery, the children of sisters, both of whom died on the same night, not far from the same hour.

cold or sudden changes in the weather. Cold and dampness bring on acute attacks of Rheumatism, but they do not cause the discusse. The cause was already in the system, and it only took the cold or the change in the weather to develop the acute attack and bring about the terrible pains in the joints and muscles. The old-fashioned way of rubbing with liniments or putting on plasters gives temporary roller in mild causes, but RUBBING WILL NOT CURE, because it leaves the cause of the discusse in the system, ready to break out in a fresh attack any day.

PHEBUMATISM ES AN INTERNAL DISCASE, AND DEMANDS AN INTERNAL REMIEDY. The dectors have known that all along; but the internal remedies that were offered either contained mineral drugs so drastic that they seriously damaged the stomach and nerves, or else contained opiates or alcohol that merely lulled the pain to sleep, giving no more permanent relief than limiments, after years of scientific CURES RHEUMATISM

A Syste mby Which All Will Return Every Five Years.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHAHLOTTESVILLE, V.A. April 17.—

Letters were sent out some time ago; by Dr. James Morris Page, secretary of the General Alumni Association of the University of Virginia, to all former students of the university, explaining a system of reunions of the alumni to be held during the final exercises in June. Members of the classes of 1901, 1894, 1891 and on down at intervals of five years, were especially invited to visit the university during the finals of 1965; members of the classes of 1902, 1875, 1862 and on down will be invited to hold their reunion at the simals of 1907, and so on, and in this way every member of the Alumni Association will have a chanve every five years or returning to the university and renewing old acquaintances with his former classmates.

That the innovation has found favor with the members of the Alumni Association is attested by the fact that already more than 150 replies have been received by Dr. Page, expressing the writer's intention of being present in June.

In his annual report to the General Alumni Association, recently published, Dr. Page gave the names of 29 former students who had replied up to that time that they would attend the finals, Following is the number of men from each class; 1901, 18; 1896, 18; 1891, 18; 1896, 2; 1841, 2, Jas. Dinwiddle, of Raleigh, N. C., and Richmat W. Jones, of Learnel, Miss.; 1854, 2, Rev. James A. Quarles, of Learnel, M. S., 1865, 18, 1895, 1, Absalom Koiner, of Fishersville, Va.
